

Pearl Bahmer Prostrated

FAINTS AT FATHER'S FUNERAL. Pearl Bahmer, daughter of Nick Bahmer, who figured in the Hall-Mills probe four years ago, fainted as her father was buried yesterday, following rites at St. Peter's Church, New Brunswick. Photo shows girl in tragic attitude. (P. & A.)

Crown Prince Brings Home His Bride

HOME AGAIN.

Wearing sternly tailored suit and mannish collar, Clara Kimball Young, stage and screen star, returned on the Majestic yesterday. The old place must look good to Clara, judging from happy smile. (Photo Graphic.)

SUES IN-LAWS FOR $150,000. That's the amount Mrs. Lillian Hunke, shown above in Jersey City court with son, Warren, 6, wants to collect from hubby's parents, whom she charges with stealing his affections from her.
